THURSDAY, . . . JANUARY 21, 1904.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Dr. N. H. Moore, of Whitwell, as a candidate to represent the counties of Marion and Franklin in the next Legislature, subject to action of Democratic party. Election in November, 1904.

We are authorized to announce William J. Harris as a candidate for election to the office of Sheriff of Marion County, subject to the will of the people. Election in August, 1904.

We are authorized to announce David McNabb, of Whiteside, as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Marion County, subject to the will of the republican primary or convention.

W. A. Brown says that while the News is talking up the question of stock raising that the three or four wire fence law should be considered. Mr. Brown says it is the only protection the farmer will have against the depredations of the omnipresent pig, and in case of such a law being enacted it would be necessary for hog owners to keep an eye out on the whereabouts of their animals who too often are to be found devouring some neighbor's crops. The amount of money spent annually in fencing out the hogs could be put to better advantage as regards profits by expending a part of it in fencing them in. No farmer can make money, or in fact be an apology for success and have his crop destroyed by marauding hogs, much less acquire wealth only to renew fences every few years.

Mrs. Grundy, of Tracy City, has the right idea about big men when she says, "they are truly big men who look above and beyond fitful surroundings to the ultimate good of mankind." The big man is no snarling pessimist, ready to vent his spleen on anybody and everybody.

There is lots of talk existent over the road bond question, and those who see the great need of something being done to improve the condition of the roads, are for the bond measure, with certain changes if possible, if not, without any change.

The Chattanooga News has installed a monster press which whirls paper through at the rate of 120 miles an hour. The growth of the News since its establishment in 1888 has been phenomenal, and it has evidently come to stay.

The man who can calmly denounce an expanse of mud and sticky clay a road, needs an opportunity to have his education improved. That is only a right of way, the road still remains to be built.

If Marion's roads are not improved everyone will be obliged to learn how to swim in order to be prepared for emergencies in navigating them.

An editor must be pretty lazy when he can't do better than credit "Exchange" to the clippings he uses.

The peculiar cough which indicates croup, is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this remedy as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. For sale by Caldwell & Chaudoin and Whitwell Drug Co.

A report from Jellico is that the 'squires out that way are hunting for the Campbell county site, not being able to locate it either at Jackboro or LaFollette.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?
He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.
What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.
That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla
It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The farmers are so badly knocked out by the terrible condition of our county roads that they can't get to town, and business is languishing in consequence.

Considerable discontent is manifest among the miners on account of the low prices for mining coal and the high prices for living. On account of the low price of iron the sliding scale has caused great reductions in the prices paid, and while work is plentiful, the pay is considerably less than what it should be.

MRS. NONA RIGSBY.

Mrs. Nona Rigby, wife of Chas. Rigby, of this city, died Wednesday, Jan. 13th, 1904, of pneumonia. While her death was very sudden she had been in poor health for some time, and hence feel an easy victim to the disease. She leaves four little children, all girls, and a husband to mourn her loss. Besides these she leaves a father and mother, who live at the old home place near Oak Grove, and several brothers and sisters among whom are J. Q. Ketner, W. B. Ketner and Miss Jennie Ketner, of this city, S. L. Ketner, of Victoria, and Chas. and A. L. Ketner, of Bridgeport. Besides these there are Eugene Ketner residing in Mississippi, and Miss Della Ketner of Dayton, Tenn. She was born Dec. 10, 1869, and was married to Chas. Rigby Nov. 24, 1892. She was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, professing her faith some 16 years ago. Interment was made at the family cemetery at Oak Grove Thursday, Jan. 14th, Rev. M. A. Hunt, of Jasper, conducting the services.

Mrs. Rigby was highly respected and her death is greatly mourned by her family, relatives and friends. She was a woman of a pleasant, cheerful disposition and beloved by all, and her death is the more sorrowful on account of the four little ones that are left motherless.

WHITWELL

Special to the News.

After two years absence from the U. S. A. I am back at the little town called Whitwell. Several of my friends have passed to the great beyond, but I find several of my friends still living, among them Dr. N. B. Moore and J. W. Morrison.

Brig. Gen. W. H. White robed in blue with two rows of brass buttons on his coat is proprietor of the Live & Let Live City Meat Market, and is as polite as a Nashville dude.
Robt. Morgan is still cashier of the Whitwell Savings Bank, and John T. Raulston is still attorney at law, and Whitwell seems to be a fine business place.

We note that Joe Griffith is in law clear up to his neck. Joe has sold out his confectionery stock to Holloway & Co.

There are three butcher shops in the city, to-wit: Duke & Smith, Holloway & Co., and the Live and Let Live City Meat Market, W. H. White, Gen. Manager.

We have about as fine a looking lot of merchants as any town in the state, and all seem to be prosperous and happy.

W. C. Hill of the News, was here Monday, and hasn't changed his looks any. We are always glad to see him when he comes to our town.

J. M. Miller, who obtained a divorce from his wife, is reported to have remarried her in Grundy county last Sunday, the ceremony being performed by parson Fago.

W. H. White and J. W. Morrison have formed a law partnership and will open an office in the city meat market building.

Advice to Young Men.

Twenty-five dollars a month to a young man, with board, lodging and washing on a farm, is more than the equivalent of $75 in a city. Besides, if he desires education his opportunities are better for self education in the country than they are in the city. Thousands of young men drift every year into the cities with bright prospects, and after years of hard work find themselves no better off than when they started in where-as had they remained on the farm they might have found themselves happily settled and thoroughly independent of the vicissitudes of city life.—Spartanburg World.

Considerable complaint reaches us that subscribers fail to get their papers regularly. Report such cases promptly to this office, and we will investigate the cause.
